Dear Parents,

Each week I receive a digital copy of AMERICA: The National Catholic Review. I reproduce for you below the editor’s response to Pope Francis’ assertion that the internet is a gift of God. The theme of the whole article is about the need to establish good use of all the attributes of the Internet as a mission of the Church.

“The Web is an unusually effective mirror, one that reflects human nature in surprising and scary ways. Perhaps no human invention to date has such potential to bring us together and tear us apart. Parents face a gamut of new choices and responsibilities related to the gift of the Internet. It will be their job to ensure that it enhances, not diminishes family life and to protect their children. The church, through practical and ethical guidance, should be prepared to assist them to assume this evolving burden.

Making sure the Internet builds community instead of destroying it will fall to a new generation of digital curators. These people will need to be good conversationalists with attractive personalities, but also an instinct for finding common ground. Gatekeepers will also be necessary to dive into the maw of digital data and separate the gold from the dross. Some of them will work for traditional news operations, but no institutional affiliation is necessary. This is already happening on places like Twitter and Tumblr, but with varying degrees of success. Training digital curators and finding a business model to support them will be necessary if the tech revolution is to truly take root.

If the Internet is a gift from God, then it falls upon us to nurture that gift. As a Catholic media ministry, America is well aware of that responsibility and the great challenge it presents. The skills required to foster a true digital revolution are indeed unusual: part journalist, part diplomat, with a minister’s eye for the troubled soul. The Catholic media may be uniquely positioned to serve in this role. Whether we succeed will depend on the daring and creativity of our best practitioners.

Parents face a gamut of new choices and responsibilities related to the gift of the Internet. Another daughter to come to Brigidine?

Sisters of girls presently in the school have priority of enrolment. Parents do, though, have to go through the application process. Ask your daughter to pick up an application form from the Brigidine Office. All applications for enrolment at Brigidine in 2015 must be at the school by Monday 28th April.

May Brigid Bless the House Wherein you dwell

Ash Wednesday
On the 5th of March we will gather together as a community in a liturgy for Ash Wednesday, which is the beginning of six and a half weeks of preparation for the most important feast day in our Church calendar, Easter. Ashes are an ancient symbol of sorrow for things we have done wrong. During the liturgy staff and students will receive a marking on the forehead of ash which shows our commitment to Jesus Christ and God.
Open Afternoon
We will have our annual Open Day on Thursday the 6th March from 2:00pm to 6:00pm. School will finish at 12:35pm on this Thursday. Supervision of students is available at the College for those who need to stay at school until 3:20pm. School Special Buses will not be operating at 12:35pm; however, students remaining at school until 3:20pm can catch their usual School Special. The canteen will be open until 1:30pm for students staying at school. If your daughter remains at school she will be required to assist with the setting up of Open Day.

Some students will be required to remain at the College to assist with the Open Day activities in different curriculum areas and as tour guides. The involvement of students in a day such as this is crucial. It gives the girls an excellent opportunity to showcase their school and their work.

Students are expected at school in their Summer Uniform. They will require books and equipment for Periods 1 to 3. Please ensure you have signed the permission slip indicating if your daughter requires supervision until 3:20pm or is assisting with Open Day.

It is an expectation that ALL senior students are involved as tour guides on this afternoon. The girls have been asked to indicate the time slot in which they will help. Please ensure this note is returned to the Homeroom teacher by the 28th of February.

Meet and Greet
We have our annual Meet and Greet Evening scheduled for Friday the 7th of March. This evening is a very enjoyable and social evening where all new parents to our school community are welcomed. The night begins at 6.00pm and everyone is welcome to attend.

Uniform
Please ensure your daughter is in correct uniform, which includes ONE earring in the ear lobe (see p.30 of the diary). No other earrings, nose rings, tongue rings are permitted. Beige or white bras are to be worn under the sports uniform and senior shirt. NO fluorescent coloured bras or bikini tops are to be worn under the uniform.

Dates to Note:

- 28/02/2014  Public Speaking Zone Final
- 05/03/2014  Ash Wednesday
- 06/03/2014  Open Day
- 07/03/2014  Meet and Greet

Thank you for your continued cooperation and support.

Still Life Drawing
Every class in the Visual Arts spends the first 3 minutes of the lesson completing a still life drawing in the back of their Visual Arts Process Diary. Girls early to class have more than 3 minutes. If we are studying Art Criticism or Art History girls still have 3 minutes of drawing. The objects change every cycle and we are continually looking for objects with interesting shapes.

This exercise can be viewed as merely building drawing skills. Eye hand coordination is developed and so are observational skills. The importance of this activity is in the brain. The power is in imaging, as a device for understanding and remembering complex information. Both hemispheres of the brain are literally given an ‘aerobic workout’ as the dominant left side of the brain forces the right side of the brain to work.

As the Visual Arts Coordinator, I have wanted to develop and celebrate the creative potential of every student in the Visual Arts. It is amazing what you can achieve once everyone makes a commitment to a 3 minute exercise on a regular basis.

Anyone with objects suitable for still life drawing would be appreciated.

Ms Deirdre Brennan
Visual Arts Coordinator

BUSINESS SERVICES NEWS
On the 19th of February 2014, Ms Dawson led year 11 Business Studies on an excursion around the spot to study local businesses. It was very Spot-tacular. The excursion began when we were broken up into groups and set off along Perouse Road and St Pauls Street to make a survey of all the businesses in the local area. We were taught the classifications of businesses and were asked to categorise each one. We had a Thai-riffic time. We learnt more about the different types of businesses that were in our area that we didn’t even know existed, it Cold Rock-ed. We were surprised at the amount of food and beverage businesses that we are surrounded by. The Spot was a really Sweet Spot to visit.

YEAR 12 FOOD TECHNOLOGY – “FROM PADDOCK TO PLATE”
The Year 12 Food Tech students really got to experience the realities of the concept from ‘paddock to plate’. They ‘felt’ how native soil and farmed soil differ. They learned that the type of soil can affect what crops are grown and which livestock are farmed. They heard how livestock eat and how they are treated affects the quality of their meat. Using live sheep to demonstrate, students saw how the shape of lamb has changed over time to suit customer demand—from dumpy and fat to longer in the body and lean, to the now dumpy but lower in fat sheep. As they held and tasted grapes they learned how it is best to pick if using a machine at night—because the temperature is lower which means the grapes suffer less bruising. As they stood next to the tractor in the paddock alongside the shearing shed, they were made aware of how technology in agriculture is constantly advancing. Tractors can now have GPS tracking systems to allow for exact seed positioning and to control fertiliser rates. Smart phone apps are available that inform the farmer of water levels in rain tanks. In a small boutique Olive Oil Producer, the students swirled and sniffed oils before tasting and heard how only 15% of extraction from olives can be used unlike 95% of grapes. Whilst nibbling on homemade wood fired pizza, students listened to a baker turned wine producer as he explained about fermented foods include cheese, bread, wine and salami. At an abattoir, the students witnessed a methodical, clean, respectful and highly efficient production line which provided a visual education on cuts of meat, differences in types of meat, how sausage skins are made. They also learned that pet food and fertiliser options allow for absolutely no wastage in such an operation. Students really were exposed to the processes involved from paddock to plate.

Some interesting facts:
- Australians are amongst some of the biggest consumers of lamb in the world.
- The main customers buying Australian wheat are Libya, Iraq and Egypt.
- If we get the environment wrong, whole cultures can disappear.
- Humans are not good at separating cause and effect in terms of time.
- More growing and producing doesn't necessarily mean more profit.
- That in a world of climate change, farmers need to adapt and evolve.

YEAR 12 HOSPITALITY – “FROM PADDOCK TO PLATE”

As the rest of Sydney was experiencing the first instalments of the February Rain, Year 12 Hospitality girls were enjoying the lovely 40-degree heat in sunny Cowra and Canowindra. As we girls were preparing ourselves for cows and corn our lovely bus driver Darren more commonly known to us “Dazza” told us jokes we would remember for a lifetime “What’s Orange famous for... nothing” – Dazza Razza

From running through cornfields, vegetable farms and wine vineyards, to tasting the highest quality Australian extra virgin olive oil, our minds were full of new ways to cook and eat our food. We learnt how our great South Land produces the world’s best lamb, oil and wine. We also sipped on grape juice fresh from the vineyard.

We were able to get up close and personal with two of Cowra’s best farmers the talented organic farmer, Wooly, and the ever so handsome Scotty the mixed-produce farmer.
From farm to farm we travelled in the blazing heat but it was all worth it especially because on each afternoon we could run down the hot sunburnt road to the community pool to jump as quickly as we could into the cool water.

The full experience of this Paddock to Plate three day camp culminated in a trip to the Cowra abattoir, a huge employer of the town’s occupants. Whilst some faces turned away, some of us watched on in full appreciation as we are ignorant of the processes that supply meat to our restaurants, supermarkets and ultimately our plates.

Perhaps the most memorable moments, however, were made up of watching and listening to our lovely teachers Ms McCarthy, Mrs Little, Miss McColl and Mrs Ginzburg rocking out on the bus microphone to karaoke under the groovy blue party bus lights of which Dazza, by the way, was very proud.

Our Year 12 classes’ next adventure is that we are taking over Pinocchio’s restaurant at the Spot for an evening on Monday March 10. We are extremely grateful to Pinocchio’s for this amazing opportunity and we are pleased to announce that the evening is already a sell-out. If you have missed out on this amazing night of good food and service stay posted for the next hospitality gig.

Alternative “Schoolies” Week exclusively for Sydney CEO Schools

Harvest INROADS in partnership with the Sydney Catholic Education Office, is proud to offer the graduating Class of 2014 the opportunity to mark the end of their schooling in a fun yet meaningful way.

Motivated by the negative images we see every year of celebrations on the Gold Coast, we decided to create a viable alternative for students.

This alternative is the opportunity to travel to Fiji where students can unwind, relax, enjoy the attractions of this island paradise while also having the opportunity to get involved with the locals and make a real difference. Based on the highly successful model of the Rio World Youth Day mission projects, “Schoolies” will be immersed in local culture and work alongside community partners, on established and ongoing service projects. Please note: Under 18’s are welcome to join the Harvest INROADS experience as it is strictly ALCOHOL, DRUG and TOBACCO FREE.

Activities during the “Schoolies” Experience will include:

- Helping with various building and infrastructure projects within the nearby villages.
- Teaching English to primary school students alongside their teachers.
-Preparing traditional meals with the women of the village and delivering them to families in need.

In partnership with the Sydney CEO, Harvest INROADS is offering a program which is reserved exclusively for your students. The details are as follows:

- Where: Fiji
- When: 22 - 29 Nov 2014
- How much: $2280 including roundtrip international airfare from Sydney
- This experience is strictly alcohol, drug and tobacco free
